

Default Main Text Attributes

Good writers have two things in common: they are admired; and they do not write for knowing and c

- Friedrich Nietzsche